Fragile goods!

Singer Olivia Rodrigo, who won multiple Grammys in this year celebration, recalls the funny accident that happened that night. While posing with her awards on the red carpet, she couldn't fit all the Grammys on her hands and one of them ended up falling and breaking. Luckily, staff were near her and could fix the precious award.

Funny memories

One of the funniest moments of the past Grammys gala happened thanks to singers SZA and Doja Cat. When it was announced that they won a Grammy SZA rushed to the stage but Doja was nowhere to be found. Seconds later, Doja Cat run to the staged and apologized for the wait...she was in the toilet! Definitely one of the highlights of the night.

HOW CHIROPRACTIC CAN BENEFIT YOUR GOLF GAME .

With Marbella having warm temperatures all year round, hours of sunshine, and a variety of mountain and sea views, this region is a hugely popular choice for golfers from all over the world.

There is nothing like a great day out on the golf course. Golf is already a challenging sport with many factors working against you to make it difficult. One thing that can quickly turn a good round bad is when your back decides that it has had enough.

Both weekend warriors and professional golfers will at some point in their playing careers experience a degree of back pain. There have been many pro golfers who have had to undergo surgery to remedy the chronic back pain. However, chiropractic care could help golfers with their back and golf game without the negative side effects of pain medication or surgery.

The golf swing places a lot of torque on the spine. Studies found that this force can be at least eight times your body weight. Due to the biomechanics involved in the unnatural golf swing, many non golf related injuries can be brought with you to the golf course. While the game is not inherently bad for your spine, pre-existing injuries may be worsened or they can suddenly flare up. Being a low impact sport, it still comes with loads of risks for injuries.

A good idea would be to spend a few minutes before your tee time stretching and warming up those cold muscles and get some blood flowing. This will make your swing more fluid and controlled while you'll notice that your muscles and spine aren't as sore the next morning.

Chiropractic care allows the whole body to perform optimally. Swinging a golf club takes a lot of coordination between several body parts. Your neck, back, hips, ankles and feet are all involved in the golf swing. Therefore, if one area of your body or one muscle is not able to perform at its optimal level, it can cause other parts of your body to overcompensate, which leads to pain. So, if anything goes wrong with the spine, many parts of your body will also get affected.

Regular chiropractic treatment and care can keep the spine from becoming misaligned. Chiropractors use techniques, such as adjustments, active release technique, movement and range of motion screening to check that your body is moving well as a whole.

With a properly functioning spine, you can lower your risk of developing "extra tension" in your back. This, in turn, helps prevent injuries that your golf swings may cause.

Tiger Woods is one of and if not the best golfers ever. Even with his natural high level of skill and ability he relies on chiropractic care to keep him on the golf course. With over 80 percent of golf related injuries being the back, it is most likely due to the repetitive nature of golf.

Whether you are a weekend golfer or a pro consider yourself a pro, regular wellness therapy that will help you on the course. Regular treatment will prevent pain during your rounds and keep you on the course for many years to come, please get in touch with CostaSpine so we can help.

Bajada de pared de derecha

Hola a todos, soy Santi Moreno y os doy la bienvenida a Prodigy Land, el canal de pádel con el que queremos aportarte consejos y explicaciones que te ayuden a mejorar tu técnica y táctica en el mundo del pádel, de la mano de Absolute Magazine.

Hoy como prometimos en el artículo anterior damos la bienvenida a la famosa bajada de pared de derecha o “cuchilla”, con la que podremos contraatacar desde el fondo pista con bolas del rival que generen un rebote generoso y con altura. A continuación, os detallamos los pasos a seguir para conseguir una correcta ejecución del golpe:

- Posición de espera frontal a la red con la pala a la altura del pecho
- Empuñadura continental como primera opción de aprendizaje y este de revés en la evolución final
- Giro de cuerpo para dejar entrar la bola y ajuste de pies para conseguir que quede delante de nuestro hombro adelantado
- Levantamos con la mano no hábil la mano pala por encima del hombro para colocarla en posición ascendente de golpeo.
- Avance descendente de la pala relajando la muñeca para conseguir rozar la mayor cantidad de superficie de bola posible, para conseguir que no rebote
- Peso encima del golpe y terminación en la cadera
- Avance con un par de pasos y volvemos a posición inicial

Santiago Moreno Pardo

www.prodigypadelacademy.com f Prodigy Padel Academy @prodigypadel @santiprodigy

48 / ABOUT MARBELLA MAGAZINE

Pues bien, una vez analizado el golpe por progresiones, os invito a que lo veáis en las imágenes que adjuntamos de un jugador de nivel avanzado y que si os surgen dudas os acerquéis por nuestro canal de YouTube Prodigy Land, donde podréis encontrar videos explicativos de cada golpe paso a paso y con ejemplos.

TIPS para conseguir un buen drive cortado

- Posición de espera con la pala a la altura del pecho
- Empuñadura continental (de momento)
- Giro con pala a la altura del hombro y abierta
- Swing descendente y con el peso del cuerpo delante
- Muñeca firme y avance con terminación a la cadera
- Buen ajuste de pies hacia el cristal de fondo

Muy bien familia, con estas pautas espero veros saltar de la silla y empezar a practicar hoy mismo las sensaciones de realizar una buena bajada de pared de derecha cortada y como último consejo comentaros que:

- Si la bola sale alta es porque le estamos entrando por debajo, levanta un poco más la pala.
- Si por el contrario lleva mucho efecto y flota será por abrir demasiado la pala
- Por último, si van todas a la red, será por un exceso de ángulo de bajada, regula la altura y comienza desde el hombro.

Recordar que cortar es como bailar con la bola, debéis acompañarla, no seáis secos con ella, debéis fluir en el golpe y veréis como sale solo.

Pues bien, como siempre si os ha valido para resolver dudas y mejorar estamos más que satisfechos, esperando que así haya sido os mandamos un fuerte abrazo y os esperamos en las pistas.

LAS FASES DEL SWING PARTE II.

2. EL DOWNSWING EN EL SWING

Podríamos discutir mucho sobre la bajada y cómo llegar a lo que se llama “el momento de la verdad”: el impacto. La inversión entre el movimiento ascendente y el descendente es ciertamente decisiva, muy a menudo de hecho encontramos backswings completamente diferentes de un jugador a otro, pero en el cambio de dirección y a partir de ahí los golpes son muy similares.

Lo que ocurre en la fase de carga se invierte en la fase de liberación, es decir: primero el apoyo a la izquierda de las caderas, seguido de los hombros, los brazos, las muñecas y por último el palo.

Esto puede parecer trivial o fácil de poner en práctica, pero, por el contrario, es aquí donde se determina realmente el nivel y el potencial de un jugador. Como todas las actividades deportivas, el golf requiere una preparación física que no debe subestimarse. Evidentemente, el esfuerzo que se le exige a un principiante o a un aficionado medio no es muy elevado, pero cuidando un mínimo de ejercicios dirigidos sin el palo, una gimnasia postural y unos estiramientos adecuados, es posible entender mejor lo que debe ocurrir una vez alcanzado el ápice del backswing.

El centro del swing, el esternón, permanece casi en la misma posición que en la dirección, pero la posición de las caderas, que ya están preparadas para abrirse hacia el objetivo, difiere mucho, así como el ángulo interno que se forma entre el brazo izquierdo y el eje que, cuando las manos están a la altura de la cadera, es de aproximadamente 45°

Cuanto mayor sea este grado, menor será la velocidad de liberación de la cabeza del palo.

3. EL IMPACTO (EL MOMENTO DE LA VERDAD)

Este es el momento en el que casi todos los profesionales y los buenos jugadores amateurs son muy parecidos, de hecho, como ya se ha mencionado anteriormente, se pueden observar backswings completamente diferentes de un jugador a otro, pero el momento del impacto no puede dejar de respetar algunos criterios fundamentales.

Un punto doloroso para la mayoría de los jugadores, el impacto se busca con toda la fuerza sin realmente entender y sentir que no es un punto de llegada, sino un simple e importante punto de paso. Es precisamente esta búsqueda de golpear y no cruzar lo que aumenta excesivamente la presión de las manos y la rigidez de los brazos, impidiendo construir la fluidez y el control necesarios para mantener un movimiento que termine mucho más adelante. En primer lugar debemos tratar de sentir la presión natural de nuestra mano sobre el grip que aumenta gradualmente a medida que aumenta la velocidad del palo y esto sólo puede ocurrir teniendo en cuenta el orden de las partes del cuerpo que intervienen desde el vértice de la espalda hasta el impacto.

Descrito en parte ya en el downswing, en el impacto, tienes las caderas ya en la dirección del objetivo, los hombros menos rotados, el grip del palo apuntando a la cadera izquierda, las manos sólo hacia delante a la izquierda de la cabeza del hierro, el brazo izquierdo y la varilla forman una sola línea y el talón derecho ya levantado.

SESIÓN DE TABATA!!!

El entrenamiento en TABATA se basa en 8 series de 20 Segundos de actividad con 10 Segundos de descanso, las 8 series se aplican seguidas sin pausa solo los 10 Segundos de descanso o cambio de ejercicio. Hoy os presento 4 ejercicios para que los hagáis usando este método, algo fácil no más de 20' de entrenamiento ya que entre cada TABATA descansaréis entre 1 minutos y 2 minutos.
¿ESTÁIS PREPARADOS? VAMOS A ELLO!!!

TABATA SESSION!!!

Training in TABATA is based on 8 series of 20 seconds of activity with 10 seconds of rest, the 8 series are applied in a row without pause, only the 10 seconds of rest or change of exercise. Today I present 4 exercises for you to do using this method, something easy, no more than 20' of training since between each TABATA you will rest between 1 minute and 2 minutes.
ARE YOU READY? GO FOR IT!!!

2. En posición de tabla lateral nos llevamos la mano al oblicuo y movemos la cadera verticalmente con suavidad, en cada serie cambia de lado.

2. In a side plank position, we take our hand to the oblique and gently move our hips vertically, changing sides in each series.

1. En posición de tabla alta o high plank llevaremos una pierna hacia el exterior de nuestro codo del mismo lado, en cada serie cambia de pierna.

1. In a high plank or high plank position we will take one leg to the outside of our elbow on the same side, in each series change legs.

3. Algo de explosividad, haremos movimiento en las 8 series, partiendo desde tabla alta hacia sentadilla profunda, intenta no despegar las manos del suelo.

3. Some explosiveness, we will make movement in the 8 series, starting from a high plank towards a deep squat, try not to take your hands off the ground.

4. En posición de tabla alta o high plank, abre ligeramente tus pies, empuja fuerte el suelo con un brazo y con el otro llévalo al hombro opuesto. En cada serie cambia de brazo.

4. In a high plank or high plank position, slightly open your feet, push hard on the ground with one arm and with the other take it to the opposite shoulder. In each series he changes arms.

SLEEPING IN STYLE

Designed by Lord Designs Interiors

The kitchen might be considered the heart of the home, but is any space so crucial to our wellbeing as the bedroom? It's the first space we see in the morning and the last one we see at night, but making sure it suits your style can be a difficult task. While some of us might rely on restful hues and a clutter-free policy in order to guarantee the coveted eight hours, others will wake up energised by bold colour and brilliantly clashing pattern.

In this month's article we will be talking about the dreamiest of bedrooms that have caught our eye recently.

Lets start with our recently completed modern townhouse project in The Quarters, Gibraltar. (Image 01 designed by Lord Designs Interiors) Opting for contrasting colours at opposite ends of the colour spectrum might not sound conducive to sleep, but this space shows just how well it can work. Combining our recent favourite tone "Teal" with small pops of bright Coral really sets this bedroom alive!

LUX LEATHER

The headboard is the natural focal point of a bedroom. We love our latest custom designed leather headboard which commands attention. Smartly boasting two layers it's a "Must-Have" for any masculine designed room.

Designed by Lord Designs Interiors

A request of many of our clients is often "I want to create a boutique hotel-inspired bedroom" – a Luxury interior with a personal touch. Boutique hotels conjure up images of luxurious furnishings, soothing colour palettes, crisp white sheets and statement beds that you never want to leave – so who wouldn't want their bedroom to look like this!

Lord Designs are extremely proud to share with you our latest award from the European Property Awards, for Best Hotel Category for the luxury boutique hotel, "Hotel Claude".

The trend for recreating this five-star experience at home has become increasingly popular over the past two years, as our bedrooms have become our sanctuaries. So, if you're looking to add an extra level of luxury and personality to your space this year, here are a few tips to lead you well on your way to creating that bespoke boutique look.

For example: The simplest – and most effective – way to create the indulgent feel of a weekend away is to add texture on texture. Every surface should feel indulgent. This is where you can play with print and pattern as well. Contrast sophisticated base neutrals with a bold graphic or bright accent shade. Here at the Marismas Suite in Hotel Claude (Marbella), we have featured eye-catching silhouettes, statement headboards and a range of luxurious finishes, and a rich jumble of fabrics.

Designed by Lord Designs Interiors

A boutique hotel is all about bespoke finishes. So, put time and effort into choosing each piece in your room, whether that's a beautiful dressing table, a statement light shade, an ornate mirror or unique accessories to complement your choice of bed, Lord Designs Interiors can help you find that perfect piece. Here in our recent Townhouse project in Gibraltar, we carefully selected these delicate porcelain birds to "fly away" from the headboard – we choose to use white accessories on a white background, to add a subtle detail.

The Four Seasons Private Residences, Madrid.

Designed by Lord Designs Interiors

A POP OF COLOUR

To bring a pop of color into your bedroom, take a cue from our recently finished luxury apartment in The Four Seasons Private Residences, Madrid. Not only does the tangerine bed throw breathe some energy into the space, but it also complements the delicate orange veins in the stone of the bedside tables & other orange details scattered around the interior.

OUR MONTHLY FAVOURITES

RATTAN

Whether inserted into carpentry and chairs, to kitchen cupboards or sideboards and headboards but also used as wall upholstery and or panelling, rattan is great for creating mood and sound absorption. We love this oversized suspended light which will transform any room into a tropical paradise.

available to purchase directly from Lord Designs Interiors

BACK TO NATURE

While wooden furniture has never gone out of style, natural textures are 'even bigger' this season.

'Think literal 'lump of wood' side tables, light fittings, stone coffee tables, timber dining chairs and timber lined feature walls.

Stone is one natural texture we cant get enough of at the moment.

'Dining Tables, side tables, coffee tables teamed with brass and timber accents - stone is huge and not going away,'

Tribute to the decorative modernity of the Egypt of the Pharaohs, the SNEFROU border is directly inspired by the collections of the Swiss Egyptologist Gustave Jequier. Hand-tufted in New Zealand wool, we just love this rug by Pierre Frey

We love the sculptural design of the "Sonali Oval Coffee Table" from Anthropologie – a room-anchoring piece for any living space

THE HIGH REVO WORKOUT SYSTEM IS THE BEST WAY TO GET IN SHAPE. LET US TELL YOU WHY...

STRENGTH TRAINING

Strength training is the most important part of any overall fitness program. High Revo focuses their workouts on making you stronger, leaner and healthier by using strength training as the main focus of the workout.

Ladies, don't be scared of lifting weights, this is the ONLY way to get in shape and lose fat in the long term.

CARDIO

Burn some extra calories whilst you get fit with the added cardio blocks during the class. It passes so fast it will be finished before you realise it.

HIIT

In each class we create a specific profile with high and low intensity intervals to ensure that you are getting the results of a HIIT workout. Our Myzone Technology allows us to follow and monitor it perfectly.

PROFESSIONAL TRAINERS

The most important part: professional trainers with many combined years of experience. You will know and feel the difference once you meet and train with them.

FUN

Nice atmosphere, cool music and the lights and energised environment will make you a High Revo addict.

BUGATTI CENTODIECI

Vs. Divo

The Centodieci is not the only car that Bugatti has produced since the Chiron. Named after French racing driver Albert Divo, this is a car that is meant to channel Bugatti's motorsport heritage. The same sort of engine powers the Divo, but in this application produces 1,479 hp. While the Chiron on which the Centodieci is based was created to chase top speed records, the Divo is Bugatti's idea of a track car and shares the Centodieci's top speed of 236 mph. However, as it's built for corners, it's going to be a lot faster around a track. It also looks absolutely phenomenal and is even lighter than the Centodieci, weighing 33 pounds less. For ultimate bragging rights, the Centodieci is better for its rarity, but as a car that has real ability on the track, we'd have the Divo.

Vs. Jesko

Arguably Bugatti's chief rival at the moment is Koenigsegg. The Swedish brand has created some truly memorable cars over the years, but the Jesko is one of the most incredible in an illustrious lineup. Powered by a 5.0-liter twin-turbo V8, the Jesko produces 1,281 hp and 738 lb-ft of torque, all of which is sent directly to the rear wheels via a nine-speed multi-clutch automatic transmission. Fueled with E85 biofuel, it can produce a Bugatti beating 1,603 hp. According to calculations made by the company, the insane supercar is capable of more than 300 mph, and with just 125 units being produced, it is a rare beast too. So, which to choose? Well, the Jesko is arguably the better-looking vehicle by a long way, it's faster, and costs less. Based on looks alone, we'd have the Jesko, and with Koenigsegg promising such incredible performance figures, it's difficult to choose the Centodieci.

RIMAC NEVERA

The Rimac Nevera is an electric hypercar like no other, with stupendous performance figures that simply defy logic and seem sent from the future. With four electric motors producing a combined 1,914 horsepower, it will blitz the 0-60 mph run in an unbelievable 1.85 seconds. And, while many EVs run out of steam at higher speeds, the Nevera will reach 258 mph at the top end. Yes, this Croatian carmaker has entered a new league of performance with the Nevera, a car that will leave the Bugatti Chiron eating its dust, although it's the similarly powerful Lotus Evija that the Nevera will have to answer to. An aerodynamic masterpiece, and with an advanced monocoque construction, the Nevera is not only capable in a straight line but is a superbly balanced hypercar too. In every facet, the Nevera proves itself as a worthy successor to the Concept_One. Only 150 people will have the privilege of driving off in one of these as Rimac keeps production numbers low.

The 2022 Rimac Nevera is an all-new engineering marvel. It arrives as a four-motor hyper EV with performance that beggars belief. Based on the C_Two prototype and a successor to the Concept_One, every aspect of the Nevera has been enhanced in some way. Rimac says that the Nevera has the world's most advanced monocoque construction, including the bonded carbon roof. It even has a drift mode... in an EV. Production of the Nevera will be slow, at a rate of just one per week, so when deliveries begin later in 2022, some customers will have to wait longer than others for their cars.

ABOUT MARBELLA MAGAZINE / 75

NEVERA EXTERIOR

Considering its breathtaking performance, the Rimac Nevera is actually not the most dramatic hypercar to look at. That's not to say that it won't turn heads, but it's obvious that the focus has been on function over form, and aerodynamics above all else. The car rides on 20-inch wheels wrapped in Michelin Pilot Sport 4S tires. The active aerodynamic systems are found all over the Nevera. There is a front underbody flap, a hood flap that reduces drag, and an active rear wing. In Range mode, the underbody vents are closed and the rear wing is retracted for lower drag. As for that rear wing, it also functions as an air brake that can activate in just 0.2 seconds. Finally, there are active flaps in the rear valance that manipulate airflow and improve cooling.

NEVERA PERFORMANCE

The numbers are simply staggering. With four electric motors, the Rimac Nevera produces a sensational 1,914 hp and 1,740 lb-ft of torque. Each wheel is powered independently by one of these motors, allowing for maximum traction and dramatically different dynamic behavior depending on which mode the car is in. It all translates to a 0-60 mph time of only 1.85 seconds, although Rimac specifies that this is on a high-friction surface with a one-foot roll-out. No gas-only models can compete with that, and even the 1,020-hp Tesla Model S Plaid - the fastest sedan in the world - is slower. The quarter-mile time is just as impressive, with the Nevera taking just 8.582 seconds for this. That's comfortably quicker than the previous record attained by the Plaid of just over nine seconds. A top speed of 258 mph is attainable in the Nevera, but that would no doubt quickly drain the battery. Still, just knowing it can be done is what sets apart this electric hypercar from everything else.
