Roney Mara was true to her chic style for the premiere of 'Women Talking'.

Emerald beauty

Margot Robbie looked stunning in Bottega Veneta at the Governors Awards.

Dangerous garment

Machine Gun Kelly was a shocker in this spiked suit for the AMAs.

Conflicting lives

Couple Kendall Jenner & Devin Booker have decided to call it quits after two years of a relationship. The two of them seem to be extremely busy with their respective careers and maintaining their status has become quite hard with these schedules.

Mid-concert injuries

Singer Florence Welch from Florence and the Machine had to cancel her UK tour due to a broken foot. Fans have been deeply affected but rescheduling of the concerts are being made. These venues were part of the band's successful 'Dance Fever' world tour.

Natalie Burn

Natalie Burn is a Ukrainian-American actress, film producer, screenwriter, model, and choreographer. She owns two production companies: 7Heaven Productions and Born To Burn Films, and has worked with many renowned actors such as: Mel Gibson, Bruce Willis, Dolph Lundgren, Antonio Banderas and Kate Bosworth among many others.

Natalie cast our Marbella Film School Student Vivian in her latest film The Enforcer. The film which stars Antonio Banderas and Kate Bosworth is about an enforcer who must sacrifice it all in order to rescue a young girl - involved in cybersex trafficking - from the grips of his femme fatal boss.

Vivian – who plays Antonio Banderas' daughter in the film - was cast due to her showreel, that we created with her here at Marbella Film School.

We had the chance to interview the film's producer, Natalie Burn, and here is what she had to say.

*Could you please let us know what was your motivation to produce The Enforcer?*

People make movies for a lot of different reasons. Some people want to become famous. Some people make movies because they have a deeply personal story they just need to tell before they die. Some people make movies in order to get rich. I'm not here to pass judgement on the various sorts of motivations that people have for making movies. But as a producer, I want to make a movie to convey a message about an important social issue or even some personal issue.

It took me five years to see "The Enforcer" to begin to take shape. When I read Peter Iliff's script, it took me a year to convince him to give me the rights. I then had to overcome a series of challenges, but I never gave up. I felt like his story was very powerful and needed to be told. The Enforcer at its core is a film that has to do mainly with the realization of the protagonist (Banderas) for the precious time he has lost, especially regarding his relationship with his daughter. I felt like there are so many people who can relate to this issue and perhaps after watching the movie it will help them make the right choices in their lives. Life is so precious and sometimes we need a push to realize that we are running out of time.

Why did you choose Antonio Banderas as your lead actor and what was it like working with him?

I loved working with legendary Antonio. Watching Antonio on set is like watching Picasso paint. He is a true artist and visionary who brings depth and life to all of his roles. I have nothing but admiration for him. He is one of the few actors today who can really do it all. He does theater, he knows how to play instruments, how to dance, how to sing and how to develop memorable deep characters. He is a true craftsman in his field. Eventually I collaborated with the company Millenium Media and suggested to Antonio Banderas' manager that he would be a perfect protagonist in the film. Once Antonio agreed to do the movie everything started to roll. I knew he was perfect for the part, with all of his acting experience he brings a multi-layered performance to his character 'Cuda' that is both gracious and edgy.

Fun Fact: Antonio Banderas is from Málaga, the neighbouring city to Marbella where our film school is located!

Our very own Marbella Film School student Vivian was cast in your film. What was the casting process like for Vivian and why did you choose her to be part of your movie?

The production had reviewed lots of tape submissions. And she stood out from the rest. I think she did a really good job in the movie. And on behalf of our whole team, I'd like to point out that we are very happy with her performance and her professionalism.

What advice would you have to our Marbella Film School students who are embarking their acting journey?

I guess the main thing is to ask yourself "why do I want to be an actor?" Truly be honest with yourself and dig deep. If you're in it for the fame and money, this industry can be deceiving. When you look at your favorite movies and your favorite actors and all of the award shows, it is just one side to a story. The other side is very raw, hard, demanding and full of sacrifice. If you're willing to work through hot, cold, wet, dry, weight loss, weight gain, injuries, waiting on set, waiting for roles, waiting in general then maybe you'll be cut out for acting. There is no blueprint for this career, just a recognition of the truth behind what it is. Just start creating. Whatever it is. Even if it's just a short. Trust me there are so many platforms out there it will find it's place. Stay true to yourself and if you really believe you have something to say. Then say it. And don't let anyone stop you or discourage you. You are your own creator.

Midnight success

Taylor Swift released her much anticipated album 'Midnights' last month and, as expected, it was a complete success. The LP became the most streamed album in a day on Spotify, the best selling album of 2022 and the best selling vinyl since 1991.

Shocking change

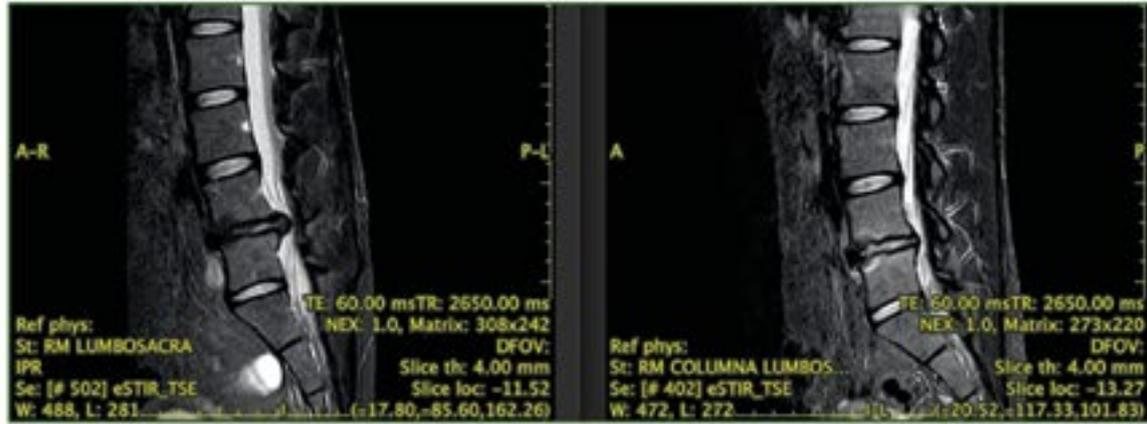

Actor Zac Efron reacted to the Internet response to the latest pics of him preparing for his upcoming role 'The Iron Claw'. For the ripped physique he admits that he had to follow very demanding instructions and that the process has not been positive for his mental health.

Consistency is key: Case Study

What may look like 50 shades of grey to you is in fact an MRI of the lower back.

Here we will discuss the results from our clinic of a client who has been receiving treatment from one of our Chiropractors, Michael.

The left image shows a severely herniated disc of the L4 – L5 level, highlighted in red, taken 6 months ago. The MRI on the right shows a follow up scan taken this week. As you can see by the before and after images, the disc bulge has reduced.

They received a consult from a Traumatologist who suggested surgery as the only way that they would be able to solve their pain issues. The client decided to try a more conservative therapy to avoid the knife and the complications associated with spinal surgery.

CostaSpine was entrusted by the client to manage their pain and get them back to feeling themselves again.

After completing our pain management phase, the client began our VIP members area rehab, specially designed for low back injuries. The video guide is designed to provide a personal training atmosphere at home.

PRE-TREATMENT

- ▶ Constant low back pain
- ▶ Neurological symptoms – pain down leg – major spinal compression
- ▶ Pain medication
- ▶ No physical activity
- ▶ Scared of movement
- ▶ Difficulty sleeping

POST-TREATMENT

- ▶ Pain free
- ▶ No Neurological symptoms – Minor spinal compression
- ▶ Bone + Joint supplement
- ▶ Running + Padel
- ▶ Understanding how a disc works and role in movement
- ▶ 8+ Hours sleep a night

After 3 months they were able to resume more movements throughout the day and began running again. Padel was soon resumed after good core control was achieved. After 6 months the client was back full time running and training now for a marathon next year!

Stop your suffering today, get in touch with our professionals at CostaSpine on info@costaspine.com. Further exciting news is that our new location will be up and running in early January 2023.

Introduce estos ejercicios en tu rutina de piernas sobre todo al final de esta y verás aumentada tu resistencia y capacidad de asimilación de lactato.

Introduce these exercises into your leg routine, especially at the end of it, and you will see an increase in your resistance and lactate assimilation capacity.

1- Sentadilla búlgara en cajón o Bulgarian squat: Solo con nuestro peso corporal ya que queremos concentrarnos en los músculos de la cadena porteros de la pierna de apoyo en el suelo (glúteo medio y gluteo mayor). Realiza 4 series de 15 repeticiones descansando 30" entre series y directos cuando cambiamos de pierna, empieza siempre por la pierna más débil o "no dominante".

1- Bulgarian box squat or Bulgarian squat: Only with our body weight since we want to concentrate on the goalkeeper chain muscles of the supporting leg on the ground (gluteus medius and gluteus maximus). Perform 4 series of 15 repetitions resting 30" between series and direct when we change legs, always start with the weaker or "non-dominant" leg.

2- Bajada de cajon o steps down: Aqui desde arriba del cajón haremos el movimiento descendiente trabajándolo de manera concéntrica sin llegar a tocar el suelo. Realiza 10 repeticiones lentas descansando 30" entre series y directos cuando cambiamos de pierna, empieza siempre por la pierna más débil o "no dominante".

2- Descent of the box or steps down: Here from above the box we will make the downward movement working it concentrically without touching the ground. Perform 10 slow repetitions resting 30" between series and direct when we change legs, always start with the weaker or "non-dominant" leg.

3- Trabajo de explosividad: Un estímulo que sus fibras necesitan para crecer, colócate de rodillas como en la primera imagen, desde esa posición debes pasar de una vez y con los dos pies juntos a posición de sentadilla como en la segunda imagen y desde ahí subir al cajón lo más estirado y alto posible. Haz los cambios lo más rápido posible y vuelve a la posición original suave bajando con pies alternos. Realiza 6 series de 6 repeticiones descansando 60"/75" entre series.

3- Explosive work: A stimulus that your fibers need to grow, get on your knees as in the first image, from that position you must pass at once and with both feet together to a squat position as in the second image and from there get on the box as stretched and high as possible. Make the changes as quickly as possible and return to the original position smoothly coming down with alternate feet. Perform 6 sets of 6 reps resting 60"/75" between sets.

4- Trabajo isométrico de aductores: Aquí te colocarás tal cual la imagen y aguantarás entre 10" y 20" por lado, no olvides que el trabajo lo tiene siempre la pierna de apoyo en el cajón. Con 4 series por cada lado sería suficiente y descansa unos 60" entre series.

4- Isometric work of adductors: Here you will position yourself as is the image and you will hold between 10 "and 20" per side, do not forget that the work is always done by the supporting leg in the box. With 4 series on each side it would be enough and rest about 60 "between series.

The Greats Forgotten

It is often said that getting to the destination is overrated, and that what is really important is the journey itself. Extrapolated to the world of interior design, this route, is starred by the hallways and corridors and as with life, it is a space that constantly occupies the last position on the scale of values of design. Little is said about how to integrate them and sometimes we are guilty of not getting the most out of them. We tend to focus on the most typical rooms and almost all of us know or have basic notions of how to decorate and distribute a living room or a bedroom, but the passageways are paradoxically more complex and less recognized.

At Lord Designs, we love taking care of these details, playing with elements that make these spaces enveloping, with their own character and personality, always in harmony with the rest of the house.

Sometimes, wallpapers are the protagonists. Other times, vertical decoration and suitable furniture. Rugs and interesting lighting are key pieces to finish unifying everything and end up creating that harmony that begins to speak of oneself and that we like to find so much.

In this entrance hallway we selected this interesting geometric wallpaper, Sumi Pebble/Chalk by Harlequin. These lines have been softened thanks to the curved mirror. Light, industrial style furniture completes the look.

Hallways and entrances are the perfect option to venture out and choose that wallpaper you like so much, but didn't dare to use in other rooms. We love these proposals from Hovia. Fun and original, ideal to give life to those corridors that at first seemed uninteresting (Available to order directly from Lord Designs)

Furniture

Hallways and entrances can accept almost any type of furniture, as long as it responds to the needs of the space.

From an area where you can relax and unwind, to making the most of the functionality of the space by incorporating storage pieces with special details.

We are inspired by this piece by Mambo to create a reading area in smaller spaces with a fresh and chic touch

Available to order directly through Lord Designs

If the square meters allow, an armchair with a footrest and a soft, elegant colour palette will create a cozy and evocative atmosphere like the Lyon residential

Project by Minotti

Taking advantage of these corners of the house for storage is always a good idea, as they are both practical and decorative. We like to move away from the preconceived idea of boring storage, and include furniture with curved lines, cupboards with shelves, or sideboards accompanied by a mirror or a piece of art. Private Residence at the Four Seasons, Madrid.

In case you are more limited for space, furniture with little depth and with unique designs and atypical lines are ideal

Natural Travertine Console "Poppy" by Mambo, available to order directly from Lord Designs

Vertical Decoration

Vertical decoration can be your greatest possession. Mirrors that open up the space, optical effects that simulate a window and reflect natural light.

Whatever the case may be, we are committed to giving communal areas of the home the attention they deserve and enjoying them as what they are, part of us and of our home. Entrance halls and corridors are the nexus, the link between rooms. They are the prologue to your little world and their function, among others, should be to begin to tell your story. Lord Designs Interiors will be delighted to advise you on your project, taking care of every detail, making the space of your dreams come true and generating sensations that will stay with you forever.

Rugs

Considered the shelter of the home, they dress, and in our opinion, totally frame the space generating a very cosy sensation. Horizontal lines and wide patterns will give a feeling of spaciousness to longer corridors

SUBARU BRZ

NAMED TOP RATED SPORTS CAR BY EDMUNDS

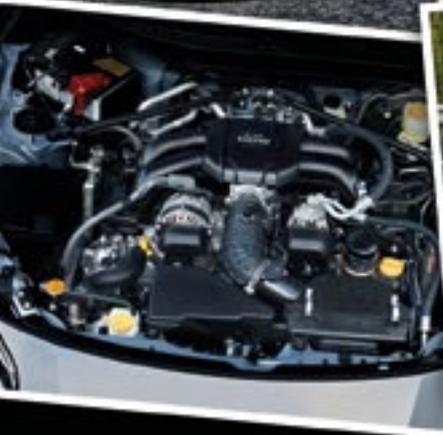

- 2022 Subaru BRZ earns top spot in its segment
- Recognized for performance and affordability
- The BRZ rear-wheel drive sports car is all-new for 2022

Subaru of America, Inc. today announced that the Subaru BRZ was named Edmunds Top Rated Sports Car for 2022. Edmunds is an online automotive guide helping millions of shoppers each month select, price and buy cars with confidence.

“We are thrilled the BRZ was recognized by Edmunds as the Top Rated Sports Car for 2022,” said Thomas J. Doll, President and CEO of Subaru of America, Inc. “It’s our mission as an automaker to develop vehicles that consumers not only can trust, but can also have a great time driving, and the BRZ does just that.”

To determine the Top Rated Awards, Edmunds tests more than 300 vehicles on road and track, driving more than half a million miles in the process. Awards were presented to vehicles in nine segments this year: Sedan, Luxury Sedan, SUV, Luxury SUV, Truck, EV, Luxury EV, Sports Car and Editors’ Choice. Per Edmunds’ standards, the Top Rated vehicles are the best cars on sale today.

The all-new 2022 BRZ is powered by a new 2.4-liter (naturally aspirated) 228 hp SUBARU BOXER® engine paired with a six-speed close-ratio manual transmission or a six-speed electronic direct-control automatic transmission. Available now at Subaru retailers nationwide, the second-generation BRZ offered in two trim levels, Premium and Limited, and has a starting price of $27,995.

About Subaru of America, Inc.
Subaru of America, Inc. (SOA) is a wholly owned subsidiary of Subaru Corporation of Japan. Headquartered at a zero-landfill office in Camden, N.J., the company markets and distributes Subaru vehicles, parts and accessories through a network of more than 630 retailers across the United States.

“We are thrilled the BRZ was recognized by Edmunds as the Top Rated Sports Car for 2022,” said Thomas J. Doll, President and CEO of Subaru of America, Inc. “It’s our mission as an automaker to develop vehicles that consumers not only can trust, but can also have a great time driving, and the BRZ does just that.”

VOLKSWAGEN

ID. BUZZ

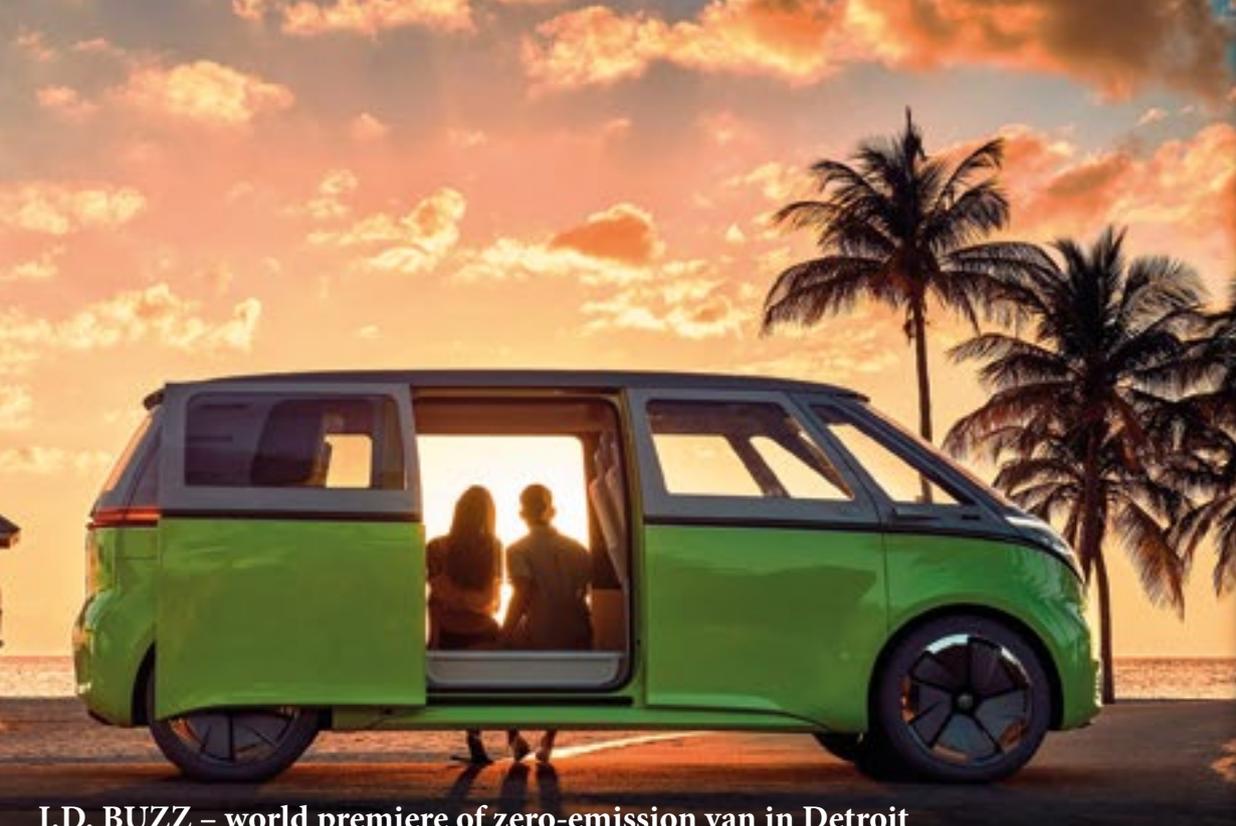

New electric van awakens flower power feelings Volkswagen presents ID. BUZZ in Detroit

Electric van has a driving range of up to 600 kilometers / 270 miles and seats eight people

Versatile zero-emission all-wheel drive vehicle transfers a Microbus feeling into the future

Key facts – the I.D. BUZZ in keywords

1. More safety and comfort: the I.D. BUZZ concept vehicle is the first fully autonomously driving van with an electric drive.
2. The distances of today's gasoline-powered cars: up to 600 kilometers, or 270 miles.
3. Makes statement about a new era of drive systems. Design of I.D. BUZZ gives electric mobility a new face.
4. Two luggage compartments and maximum flexibility: thanks to electric drive system I.D. BUZZ is a space wonder with seating for up to eight.
5. Focus on people: in the fully autonomous "I.D. Pilot" driving mode, the driver's seat can be turned 180 degrees to face the rear.
6. Traction in any terrain: electric all-wheel drive with two motors and 275 kW / 374 PS of system power.
7. Icon of a new era: concept vehicle carries Microbus feeling over to the future.
8. Optimally in driver's visual field: Head-up Display projects information via augmented reality.
9. Steering wheel with capacitive touchpad is now the touch-sensitive steering wheel: the van's main functions are controlled from the steering wheel.
10. Can also be used outside of the I.D. BUZZ: flexible center console with tablet display and Bluetooth loudspeakers from Beats.

I.D. BUZZ – world premiere of zero-emission van in Detroit

The era of electric mobility has begun. And Volkswagen will be shaping it: with the I.D. BUZZ that Volkswagen was presented at the North American International Auto Show in Detroit – a Microbus of a new era. In its design, the electric concept van forges links between the legendary origins of the Volkswagen brand and its electrifying future. The I.D. BUZZ, like the I.D., is another new Volkswagen vehicle that will give a face to electric mobility. These are cars whose thoroughly clear design reflects a transformation – of the brand and its models. Dr. Herbert Diess, Chairman of the Board of Management for the Volkswagen brand: "The Volkswagen brand's big electric offensive begins in the year 2020 with a completely new vehicle architecture. That is when we will be launching an entirely new generation of fully connected, all-electric vehicles on the market. By 2025 we want to be selling one million of these vehicles annually. We are making electric mobility the new trademark of Volkswagen."

Volkswagen is showing just how multifaceted the electric mobility of tomorrow could be in Detroit with the I.D. BUZZ concept vehicle – a space wonder with all-wheel drive, electric motors at the front and rear axles, a fully-autonomous driving mode ("I.D. Pilot") and a new generation of display elements and controls.

New bus, new name. The name "I.D. BUZZ" is indeed a made-up word, but it was hardly an arbitrary choice. I.D. stands for "Identity," "Idea," "Individual," "Intelligent" and "Iconic Design". BUZZ, on the other hand, is a phonetic word play on "bus" and refers to the silent "buzzing" of the drive system. This all fits in perfectly with the technologically progressive and design-focused concept of the concept vehicle.

Travel up to 600 kilometers. Charge while drinking a cappuccino. Then the journey continues.

First autonomously driving van. "The I.D. BUZZ is a van of the next generation. It is based on the new Modular Electric Drive Kit (MEB), and it offers comfort and plenty of space for travel. It takes less than 30 minutes to charge the battery to 80 percent capacity at a charging power of 150 kW."
